Day One

Digital Citizenship and Well-Being Action Plan
February 11, 2020

#DigCitCommit

DAY 1 GOALS:

- Reflect on your personal experiences online.
- Actively listen and learn about others' online experiences.
- Generate questions on how you might make online experiences more inclusive, alert, balanced, informed or engaged.

OVERVIEW: THE WHY

Digital citizenship and well-being are critical for today's students and tomorrow's leaders. Empowered digital citizens are inclusive, informed, engaged, balanced and alert. They're able to discern fact from fiction, productively navigate relationships online and offline, and use technology to champion the change they want to see in the world.

The DigCitCommit coalition has worked with educators, leaders and national organizations to develop five competencies of digital citizenship that will shift the conversation from don'ts to do's online.

Inclusive. I am open to hearing and respectfully recognizing multiple viewpoints and I engage with others online with respect and empathy.

Informed. I evaluate the accuracy, perspective and validity of digital media and social posts.

Engaged. I use technology and digital channels for civic engagement, to solve problems and be a force for good in both physical and virtual communities.

Balanced. I make informed decisions about how to prioritize my time and activities online and off.

Alert. I am aware of my online actions, and know how to be safe and create safe spaces for others online.

DISCOVER: YOUR PATH

Digital citizenship and well-being can mean different things to different people. We're all unique and we all bring unique experiences to the table. As you hear more about the five competencies, let's unpack each one and discover more about what digital citizenship and well-being means to you.

What has been your best experience online? What emotions did you experience (surprise, inspiration, forgiveness, happiness, etc.) and why?

What has been your most challenging experience online? What emotions did you experience (frustration, confusion, anger, hurt, etc.) and why?

How did these experiences impact how you currently engage online?

UNDERSTAND: ALL PATHS DON'T LOOK ALIKE

So far, you've heard from a variety of leaders and gotten their perspectives on digital citizenship and well-being.

What did you hear? How are their experiences similar to yours? How are they different?

WHAT'S NEXT: IT WOULD BE CRAZY IF WE DIDN'T...

You've reflected and shared a lot of thoughts, ideas and emotions today. You've heard from youth leaders, adults and those surrounding you at this event. Let's take a moment to turn those ideas into opportunities!

One year from today, we'll look back on our time together. What's your call to action? What's one thing that we absolutely must accomplish as we continue on our DigCitCommit journey.

How might we change the conversation online from one of don'ts to one of do's?

IT WOULD BE CRAZY IF WE DIDN'T...
