

Contents

Introduction	1
The Race to Be First	2
The Earthquake and Aftershock	3
Why Does This Matter?	6
Chapter 1: Facts Are So 2015: Why This Book? Why Now?	9
Nothing You Can Say Will Convince Me Otherwise	11
Where Do Educators Fit in a Post-Truth World?	14
Chapter 2: Fake News: The Great Human Tradition	17
Following Franklin’s Lead	18
The Tradition Continues	20
The Psychology Behind Fake News	21
The Frontlines: Teaching Media Literacy	23
Striking While the Iron Is Hot	26
Chapter 3: Fake News in an Exponential World	29
All the News That’s Fit to Post: A New Media Landscape	29
A Buffet of Options: Helping Students Choose?	34
A Call to Accuracy	37

CONTENTS

Fake News Fatigue	41
Implications for Schools	42
Whose Responsibility Is It?	45
Great Challenges Require Great Solutions	46
Chapter 4: Our Brains on Fake News	49
Fake Facts, Real Consequences	51
Fake News Strategies, Bias, and Empathy	53
Strengthening Your Core (Principles)	56
There Will Still Be Trolls	60
Don't Feed Fake News, Either	61
Chapter 5: Fake News Self-Assessment	63
Mobile Matters	63
Fake News Self-Assessment	64
Answers: Fake News Self-Assessment	72
So... How Did You Do?	75
Chapter 6: All Is Not Lost! Resources for Combatting Fake News	79
It's Complicated, but Not Impossible.	80
Frameworks and Tips for Determining Credibility	82
Sample Lesson Plans	87
Fact-Checking Tools and Other Useful Resources	91
The Notification Generation	99
It's a Bird! It's a Plane! It's Your Teacher-Librarian!	106
Chapter 7: Voices from the Field	111
The Answer Is in the Lily Pads	111
Arika Dickens: Librarian, London, England	113

CONTENTS

Len Bryan: Library Technical Systems Manager, Denver, Colorado 117

Bill Ferriter: Teacher, Apex, North Carolina 119

On the Front Lines 121

Chapter 8: Critical Thinking Now More Than Ever 125

Educators: Kryptonite to Fake News 126

Let's Do This! 130

References 133

Index 141